

A Trucker's Guide to Being Set-Apart

Shalum! To all the believers and readers out there my name is Aharon Arnold. I'm a truck driver whose job takes me on the road to different cities and environments on a weekly basis. I have to leave my family and the local assembly of believers. This is not something that I enjoy, but I am comforted by the fact that Kepha and Yahusha understood what it was like to be out there by themselves. In Marqos 10:28-30, Kepha comes to Yahusha and says, "...We left all to follow you." Yahusha's talmidim left their families to begin their ministry with Yahusha. They made sacrifices in order to proclaim Yahusha's teachings and to help rescue those ensnared by the evil one.

Like the talmidim before me, I also have to go out. I present myself as a Yahuwah and Yahusha believer, being set-apart in all my journeys. As I go into a shipper's office or a truck stop, I aim to be a light. I wear a smile on my face and am approachable. I want the people I encounter to see the difference in me. Maybe they'll ask me why I'm so cheerful. Or maybe by seeing my smiling face, they will feel hopeful concerning their own lives. Even if they don't come out and ask me personally, I think they maybe think these things in their minds.

In closing I just want to encourage other drivers and workers who have to leave family and the local assembly. I know what you're going through. Just remember to put on the whole armor of Yahuwah. He will go with you all of your days and in all your journeys.

This is AApreacherman signing off 'til next week.
